

Hi!

Its been a while but we're back! And as promised bigger and better. In Trento an enthusiastic audience were treated to the sixth edition of ToW, that saw numerous events take place over a periode of 10 days,so a big congratulations Italy! Knocking on Bulgaria's artistic door and next in line is ToW Sofia! This bold city is ready to wow and engage with its audience about a wide variety of interesting subject matters. The festival hosted by Arte Urbana will take place in their impressive Toplocentrala, excited to see what they have in store for us! But the fun doesn't end there of course as next in line we have Belgrade who are, as always working tirelessly and adding the finishing touches to what will surely be a fantastic festival! Last but not least the city of Antwerp will host its second edition of ToW in Arenberg Schouwburg, as well as the closing ceremony, concluding the Curious project for the year 2022. Curious for more? I know we are! Find out more about CURIOUS

Italy Theatre of Wonder

ToW #6

Teatro della Meraviglia 2022

The sixth edition of the Theatre of Wonder in Trento came to an end on October 8th: what an intense and exciting edition! We had the pleasure to host on stage several English-language performances realised by the European partners of the CURIOUS project. The three Augmented Lectures were performed at Portland Theatre in two separate days keeping the audience quite engaged.

The festival consisted of ten rich days with no less than eighteen events, distributed over three theatre spaces. Among the various proposals, this year's edition brought together two institutions such as the University of Trento and Caltech (California Institute of Technology), which saw some of their students involved in a fruitful collaboration.

Once again this year, the audience was warm and willing to get involved, demonstrating how great the desire to understand and approach science still is, but

BULGARIA Theatre of Wonder

Theatre of Wonder festival is knocking at the door in Sofia!

From the origins of life to the meaning of love; from scary poisons to even scarier media manipulations; from maps of the Earth to the history of the stars. The world around us is full of wonders. The wonders of science find their place in art – and in the dance between them, the Theatre of Wonder is born.

THEATRE OF WONDER is a European network of festivals dedicated to collaboration between artists and scientists. Its first edition in Bulgaria took place in 2021, and this time we have expanded the programme to bring the audience even more interesting topics!

The festival programme includes stage productions in intriguing scientific fields that will spark your imagination and inspire you. The creative interaction between artists and scientists gives birth to a new format that we called Augmented Lectures.

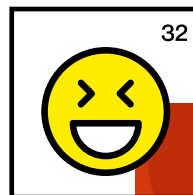

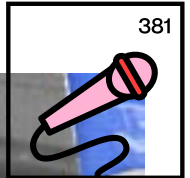

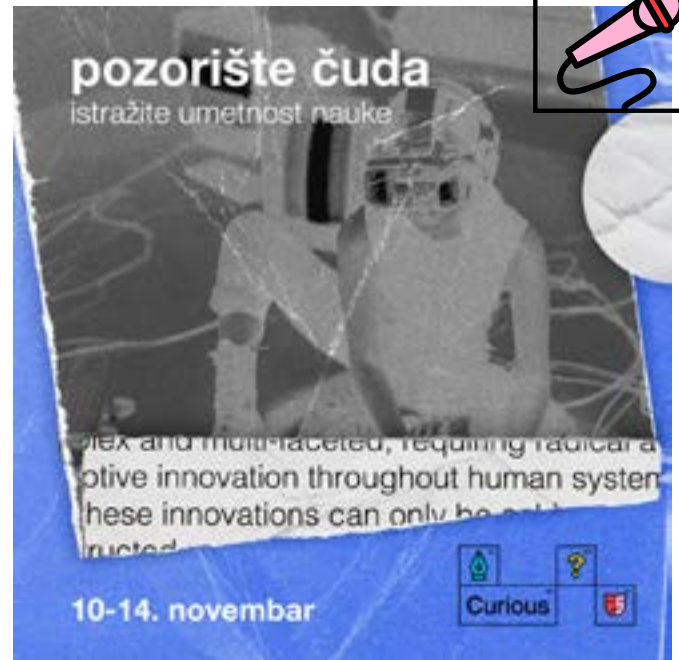

BELGRADE Theatre of Wonder

The second edition!

The second edition of the Theatre of Wonder festival will be held in several locations in Belgrade from the 10th to the 14th of November. Its main program will show as many as 10 innovative performances produced by the CURIOUS project partner organizations. The performances will take the audience on a journey through various scientific disciplines and topics- from the phenomenon of synthesis to the creative ways of using geography maps and the secrets of the Universe itself. The entrance to all the programs is free, and for more information regarding them, check our website and social media accounts.

Belgium Theatre of Wonder

Edition 2!

From the 8th through the 11th of December, scientists and artists from all over Europe are coming to Arenberg Antwerp. Each artist paired up with a scientific partner in crime to create unique performances. We are particularly excited about this edition as this time around Arenberg can finally spread its wings so to say and deliver a full four day festival. Playing host to the Augmented Lecturs from our European partners as well as our own, the festival will see a wide variety performances, talks , podcast interviews as well as a celebratory closing ceremony held in Arenbergs's cosy Bar Lokal. Find the full program of the four day festival here

See you all very soon!
